In Prison, as in Hades—
The Really Big News
Respect and Patience
Nations and Farmers
By Arthur Brisbane

DANIEL'S DISCOVERY was damned in hell biting at the author's heels. The horror was impossible, but not Raymond Street Hall a prison, secretly under a soap and handle to razor edge and a "savage" snubbed a fellow prisoner, "Red Moran." In prison, the hell, bitter hatreds endure.

"Red Moran," who killed
two policemen, said at his trial
"I want to be in the chair," meaning that he wanted to be hanged in the electric chair.
Talking the language of the author that bred him, stabbed by an angry criminal, "Red Moran," twenty-four years old, shows how poor a chance such men have in life.

Americans talk today of many things—prosperity, politics, asserted crimes, sports.
Today's only news that will interest future generations is the news that on Wednesday actual moving pictures of human beings were sent through the ether without wires, across the Atlantic Ocean.

Human beings actually saw each other, separated by three thousand miles of water.
If that accomplishment is done by a race only 17,000 years from the stone age, who can doubt that a million years hence our race will see pictures coming through the ether of life on other planets?

Secretary Kellogg, home from Canada, says: "Every question will be adjusted between us by respect for each other's rights, tolerance and patience."

That's true of Canada and Great Britain. That Empire, instead of objecting to our building of fast cruisers, and making other common-sense preparation, should be delighted.

Britain and the United States are friends.
If you want into a financial venture you would like Mr.
Rockefeller for a friend. If you want into a "cousin neighborhood," you would like Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey on either side.

Employment conditions are not satisfactory in New York State and Governor Smith instructs public officials to help "take up the slack" by putting men to work on public enterprises.

That should be automatically,
work of national and State programs.

A farmer finds something for his farm hands and his own hands to do in Winter, when crops are in. A good farmer keeps his horses to work, mending their keep in Winter, hauling wood or otherwise.

National and State governments should be automatically,
work of national and State programs.

MISSING SMITH GIRL'S FRIEND TAKEN FROM COLLEGE BY FATHER

Northampton, Feb. 10—Maj. Stanley Washburn, most intimate friend of the family of Frances E. John Smith, today withdrew his daughter, Fawn, from Smith College.

The withdrawal was the most startling development in the Frances Smith mystery since the disappearance, nearly a month ago, of the Smith College freshman, under circumstances that never have been explained.

Major Washburn has been actively interested in the search for his daughter since she dropped from sight. Since then, he has been the close friend of St. John Smith, wealthy New York broker, and father of the vanished girl.

Major Washburn, well known as a war correspondent and explorer, appeared at the college today asking that his daughter, Fawn, who with the missing girl was acquainted, be taken from the college and withdrawn from the ranks of Smith College students at once.

President William Alton Nelson confirmed the action in which Mrs.
Washburn also participated, and

An East Boston man and a woman, known to the police only as "Kitty" were sought today in connection with the disappearance from their home, last Sunday, of two Cambridge girls, Smith, 14, and Clara, Latham, 16.

Two girls believed to be the missing pair left a home in Worcester at South End, Wednesday with the man and woman, according to a story told the police by Mrs. Helen Blaise, who lives at the home.

Mrs. Blaise, who lives at the home, said the man and woman appeared at the house and took the girls away. It is believed their destination was an address in Cambridge, Mass., Roxbury.
Boston police directed Mrs. Blaise to Cambridge, where she communicated this information to the girls.

SUDBURY COURT FIGHT DISMISSED BY JUDGE

Judge Walt of Supreme Court today dismissed the petition of five Sudbury residents who seek to determine the authority for which the Hamm-Wetherbee Associates are attempting to revive the old Sud-bury plantation proprietors.

Sudbury citizens crowded the courtroom at the hearing of the petition and were entertained by claims of "fraudulent procedure" and a description of a scuffle between Warren Wetherbee, a respondent, and the town's police chief, Seneca Hall, during which the windshield of the latter's automobile was broken.

Attorney Harold Williams, Jr., appeared for the petitioners, who claimed that any revival of such an old custom would cause immensable damage and inconvenience to the town's residents.

ASK OUTSIDE AID TO FIGHT FLAMES

Ten men were killed and 75 to 100 were injured in an explosion of Tanks 6 and 7 in the plant of the Beacon Oil Co. in Everett late today.

The shower of flame ignited half a dozen buildings and small supply sheds, whose fire lighted up the black palls of smoke rolling from out the roaring tanks.

Three airplanes said to have been cruising over the Beacon plant at the moment of the explosion climbed out of reach of the smoke and flame and disappeared.

To battle the flames spread by the cascading oil, the Everett fire department asked and received aid from Boston, Chelsea and Revere.

Meanwhile police and emergency ambulances were rushing some of the injured to the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston.

Some of the injured are:
Walter Drake, foreman in gasoline distilling plant; Charles Poyet, Jeremiah Troisman, William Flanagan, John Gills, Everett; Frank Graham, Milton, John Connelly, Everett;

SMITH COLLEGE GIRL IS 'OUT'

Fawn Washburn is 19 years old and was a classmate of Frances Smith, 21, who entered college as a freshman last fall. Her withdrawal was announced as the heartbroken parents of the missing girl sought to identify a dark, stained dress recovered from Mill river, near the campus. Searchers who found the dress viewed it as evidence of a crime committed near the river and continued today their search along the banks for Frances' body.

Gilbert C. Voss, who has been seeking nearby waters with a submarine searchlight, will return to his home in Indianapolis tomorrow. His conditions make it impossible to expose the depths of the Connecticut river at this time, he said, but he will return later if his assistance is desired.

He advised that a casket which he had at the river, during the time of the spring freshets. The idea of employing divers to probe the waters of the Connecticut had been abandoned for the present.

Kosciusko Polander; He Was or Wasn't; Take Your Pick

berations of the question whether Kosciusko was a Pole or a Lithuanian echoed through City Hall today as the trial of William McAndrew, former superintendent of schools, reopened for a second session this week to hear further testimony on insubordination charges.

In a pamphlet recently issued by the school board, Kosciusko was referred to as a Lithuanian. Polish-American organizations protested and suggested that pamphlets be burned as pro-Lithuanian. Delegates representing more than 1000 Lithuanian societies and churches have presented a petition to Mayor Thompson asking that the board of education be reformed from referring to the revolutionary hero as a Pole.

Letters of Kosciusko and writings of authorities on history were cited by the petitioners.

members, who in turn told the Cambridge authorities. The mothers visited the Worcester street house today, seeking to obtain further information.

Mrs. Blaise, who voluntarily gave the clue, first gave the name of "Mrs. Thayer" in order to avoid publicity which might affect her and this for some time resulted in confusion as to the identity of the informant.

Now women, Edith Taylor and Irene McAuliffe of the Cambridge and Boston forces, respectively, were deputed to trace the quartet.

While this clue was considered the most important, Cambridge authorities continued their efforts to check up on the activities of a woman who approached several grammar school girls recently, enticing them to accompany her to her home.

Because of these reports, superintendent of schools Fitzgerald of Cambridge two weeks ago warned grammar school teachers to instruct their charges on the advisability of ignoring the approaches of strangers.

While there is little to indicate its source in the present case, police are seeking to establish a report that a girl resembling Francis St. John Smith, missing South College student, was seen last Friday in Cambridge.

Mystery 'Duchess' Put Under Heavy Guard

New York, Feb. 10 (AP)—The newspapers to be in the employ of a young Russian aristocrat, who believes the woman to be the grand duchess, still deny that Anastasia is the slain Czar Nicholas II of Russia, was today under heavy guard today at the Long Island estate of Mrs. August Richard.

Taken away in a closed automobile from the liner Benaranga, upon which she arrived from Europe, her whereabouts remained a mystery for many hours.

Later it was learned she had been taken to the Richard home at Lawrence beach, Long Island, where it was said she would remain until her return to this country of Mrs. Willis B. Leeds, the former princess Xenia of Russia, who invited her to this country. Mrs. Leeds is now on a cruise of the Caribbean sea.

Mrs. Richard, a friend of Mrs. Leeds, met Mrs. Anastasia Tolstoy, as the young woman is known, at the pier and drove the car in which she was speeded away, sliding a score or more of reporters. Mr. Richard is a New York importer, and the family is listed in the Social Register.

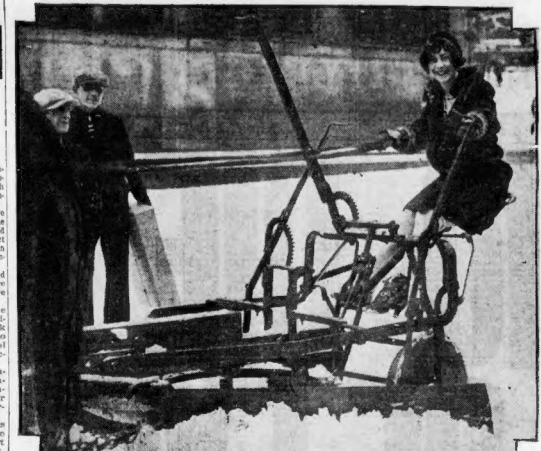

The Richard estate, which is a large one adjoining that of H. H. Rogers, was surrounded by guards all night, who refused to permit any one to enter. A statement issued from the home said the young woman was resting there, and added that for the time being she would not talk to newspapermen.

"She desires no publicity at this time," said the statement. "She is tired and resting here and does not care to be disturbed."

The crippled woman, whom stewards on the ship described as "seemingly not quite aware of what was going on about her," was protected from the attentions of reporters by her nurse and two men, who they represented her sponsors in this country.

James Agnew Gallagher, the nurse, is said to be in the employ of Mrs. Leeds, and Glob Bottin, son of the former physician to the Czar's family, carries an affidavit from Mrs. Leeds naming him as her agent in this country. The couple to be married are said to be Charles Foley, a lawyer, said by

HUBBY 'DOESN'T KNOW' GLORIA WANTS DIVORCE

Bridgeport, Ct., Feb. 10 (INS)—

Bery A. Bishop, 35-year-old attorney and husband of the former Gloria Gould, when shown a Paris dispatch saying his wife was about to seek a decree of absolute divorce, denied today that he had not intended to co-operate.

"As a matter of fact," he said, "I haven't received any word from my wife that she is planning to get a divorce."

This was Bishop's answer to Paris reports that a financial settlement already had been arranged with him by the Gould family.

General Henry A. Bishop, the young man's father, also denied that any word of divorce plans had been received.

The romance of the young couple ended at about four o'clock one morning when Gloria packed up and left her Greenwich, Ct., home, departing soon afterward for Paris.

Paris, Feb. 10 (INS)—Following a last council by members of the Gould family in Paris, it was learned today that Gloria Gould, youngest daughter of the late George Jay Gould, will file suit for divorce in the United States.

The latest, Henry A. Bishop, of New York, furnished the original plan to have the divorce action brought in Paris by his wife's father.

It is said that money has been spent lavishly in preparation for the ceremony. Although there has been much opposition to the marriage, it is understood that the former Marquise of Istres have been completed, according to reports today.

Bridgeport, Ct., Feb. 10 (AP)—The Duchess of Torlonia, who was Elsie Moore of Greenwich, Ct., was granted a divorce from Duke Marino Torlonia of Rome, Italy, today.

The decision was given by Judge John R. B. Smith of the Superior Court before whom the action was tried early in December.

The duchess based her petition on the allegation that the duke had been guilty of misconduct. The answer of the duke was that the courts of this State were without jurisdiction.

RUTH SNYDER'S 'FORTUNE' TO HER MOTHER

New York, Feb. 10 (INS)—A petition for the probate of the will of Henry Just Snyder died in the electric chair in Sing Sing for the murder of her husband, Albert Snyder, was filed today by her mother, Mrs. Josephine Brown.

The will was drawn in prison on January 10.

In her petition, Mrs. Brown declares the $11,000 in real property left by Mrs. Snyder was bequeathed to her on December 3, 1927, and also that she was named sole beneficiary of her daughter's two insurance policies, one for $1,000 and the second for $2,000.

Under this will, personal property valued at $1,000 is to be kept by Mrs. Brown as trustee for Mrs. Snyder's eleven-year-old daughter, Lorraine. This is to be used at the discretion of the child's lawyer to provide her education.

Two platinum and diamond rings and a platinum bracelet are to be given to Lorraine when she reaches the age of sixteen, if Mrs. Brown thinks she "can take care of them."

'Is All a Girl Could Wish For'

SOBS WHEN AID IS OFFERED BY FRIENDS

A COUNTESS NOW
The former Roberta Laurie, whose marriage to Count Henri de Mauduit took place in France. Before taking up costume designing she was a "hello" girl in Mansfield.

IN SUNNY MIAMI
This photo of the Countess Roberta de Mauduit was taken in Florida. She went to Paris to continue the study of art and designing and there met the Count at a ball given at St. Cyr Military School, the West Point of France.

DURING A VISIT TO CONE ISLAND
The Countess is seen in this photo with her sister, Annie, now a resident of Stoughton; Joe Mulino and Robert Lash during a visit to Coney Island. In a letter to her sister, Countess wrote that her Count "is everything a girl could wish for. I'm so happy I can't see straight," she also wrote.

IN FINE COSTUME
The Countess wrote to her sister last November that she "never hoped to marry him." "I'm the luckiest girl in the world," she stated in a letter to her family.

"As Heaven is my judge, I'm no slayer," said Mrs. Julia Palmer MacDonald, one time Broadway butterfly and classmate of Millicent Bowers Hanson, former Countess Salm, who is condemned to die on the gallows in Montreal on March 23.

The plea of innocence was made in her cell by the former pinup girl, who is now in the Montreal House of Detention, representing a defense committee in that city, who is in Montreal to make a final appeal to the Minister of Justice for the girl's life.

According to dispatches from the Canadian city Mrs. MacDonald, converted, with her husband, George MacDonald, of the slaying of Adelaide Bouchard, a Montreal taxi driver, broke down for the first time when she realized that residents of her home town were working to save her from the gallows.

BREAKS DOWN.
The iron self-control that has made the former dancer the marvel of officials deserted her, and tears, long held back, coursed down her wan cheeks, as she talked with Atty. Cullen.

FACES FIREBUG CHARGES

HOUSE-OWNER HELD IN $5,000 BAIL
James E. Desmond, Brighton court officer, with Michael Todisco, East Boston contractor, in custody. Todisco is alleged to have aided in the firing of three houses he recently completed in Brighton. Bail was fixed at $5,000 for hearing on Feb. 20.

FELL IN LOVE WITH COUNT AT FIRST SIGHT

"I'm to marry Count Henri de Mauduit and I'm so happy I can't see straight. If he were plain Harry Houdini I'd marry him. I've known many men in my life, but he is everything a girl could wish for."

So did the former Roberta Laurie, Mansfield's belle, describe her French count, in a recent letter to her sister, Miss Annie Laurie of Stoughton, where the Lauries of ancient Scotch lineage hold sway.

Her family confirmed the report that this American girl had married into French peerage. She had gone abroad to continue the study of art and designing, at which she was so adept as a very young girl.

She met the count three years ago at an elaborate ball given at St. Cyr Military School in Paris, an institution similar to West Point. Introduced by a mutual friend, Miss Mary Perendic, related to the Cornelius Vanderbilts, and a sister of Mrs. Alfred Shepard, Betty, as she is intimately known, fell in love at first sight. And so did the count.

"But she had never hoped to marry him," the sister explained. "In her letter to me in November she wrote: 'I've known him for three years but I never hoped to marry him. He was a captain in the French army during the war, and won the Croix de Guerre. I'm the luckiest girl in the world. I've just been spending time in Brittany with his family where I've been waited on hand and foot. They aren't millionaires, but they have two chauffeurs and many servants and I'll be comfortable all my life.'"

To Mrs. Alice McKenna, an old acquaintance of her Mansfield days, the Countess wrote: "We are going through Italy to Switzerland and then on to Algiers and Morocco on our honeymoon."

HICKMAN JESTS AT THREAT OF GALLOWES

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 10 (INS)—"It is 12 steps to the rope, and I don't choose to run in 1925," said William E. Hickman today as he made just of a fatal decision that now means life or death to him as the kidnaper-slayer in one of the country's most atrocious crimes.

With the words of the jury verdict, laying the responsibility for the kidnapping and killing of Marion Barker upon his shoulders, still ringing in the ears of a nation, the condemned youth in court-stating sentence, evidenced light-heartedness that verged on the facetious.

He talked freely of his trial and his impending journey to San Quentin State Penitentiary where he will either be hanged or serve a term of life, depending upon the sentence to be pronounced tomorrow by Superior Judge J. J. Trahan.

"All that I can say," commented Hickman somewhat jovially, "is that it's better to be dead than to have all those things the matter with you that the doctors and lawyers said I have."

HAS SEEN 'ALL OF LIFE'
"Why should I want to keep on living?" he said, repeating a question asked him. "I've had all of life. I want, I'd just as soon be on my way to wherever I'm going."

Then, reverting to a thought with which he has played since he was placed in his cell in the hall of justice, the thought of providence and fate, he said:

"All of this was predestined. That's what I had to think about when these lawyers were talking in court. I knew there was no use to sit there and worry."

"I knew it was either guilty or not guilty, whichever came or insane or not. It was all predestined. I asked if he had always believed in predestination, he replied: 'I only thought about that after I was caught. Then I began to reason that things must be mapped out for us in life, so I just took what came along.'"

The youthful kidnaper-slayer said that he was reconciled to the thought of death on the gallows. "But," he added, "I wish they would use me as a scientific study."

He was informed that someone had telephoned the jail, saying that the University of Chicago wanted his brain for examination, if he is executed.

Autoist Fined $25 for Towing Three Men on Toboggan

Pleading guilty to towing three men on a toboggan behind his automobile, a practice denounced by Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin, Samuel S. Finch of Commonwealth ter., Allston, was fined $25 today in District court. He paid.

The specific charge against him was driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public on January 29, Patrolman Edward Kelly halted Finch's car when he saw the toboggan scuffling along in his wake, and this later result of a Registrar Goodwin's statement.

When opposed the Legislature on behalf of the tobogganists, he said that it would be a great mistake to think with the general descriptive law which the police enforce.

The late Adm. Mark was impossible in conducting an investigation. He insisted cases where young women were making a living in the way of entertainment.

He should make out for the people who are working about the city. Nobody's business how old they are.

U. S. MAY END MEXICO 'WAR' ON CHURCH

The initiative to have Fr. Burbo come here originated with Charles J. Warren and John B. Payne, who represented the United States in the "Amity Conference" here five years ago.

It was stated that the Vatican would agree to an order for suspension of church services throughout Mexico if the Mexican government will modify the presidential decree of July 2, 1925, making it so that only priests in charge of church activities must register with the municipal authorities before they can conduct services.

At present the decree applies to all priests in accordance with the stipulation that only Mexicans are to be priests in Mexico.

Catholic leaders here contended since the decree was issued that it takes control away from the hierarchy and vests it in the state.

It is reported further that the Vatican may agree to the order prohibiting foreign clergy from officiating as priests in Mexico.

'I've Been Bad' But No Slayer'—Butterfly

love me and have been everything to me. "But as Heaven is my judge, I am a murderer. Oh, how I want the folks who knew me when I was just a kid to believe that I'm not."

The girl who bravely awaits the hangman is not the same girl who a few years ago was known as the Broadway butterfly. Her wings are drooping, they have lost their luster, and she resembles more a bedraggled moth that has been stung in the flame of life.

The arrival of Atty. Cribb brought the first ray of hope that Mrs. MacDonald has seen since her conviction, and she has begun to look forward to a dreary existence in prison for the rest of her life.

MacDonald has been determined to do my bit to save her life. It is not so much possible," said the Mr. Vernon attorney, after conferring with Julia and her husband, who is confined in another part of Valleyfield prison.

"But," Cribb continued, "since spending three hours with the poor girl, I can only say that I will not double every effort for her."

"I have never been impressed in all my experience as I was in my conversation with Mrs. MacDonald. I never have I seen anyone more grateful for the assistance of friends."

Yet braver in the face of death. She asked me to be sure to convey publicly to the people in Mt. Vernon, who are trying to help her, my gratitude she feels for the effort they are making."

In the meantime protest against the execution of the woman continued to come in. Among the latest to be received are the following: Mrs. Charles F. Goodwin, chairman United Citizens' League, Charlestown. "The chair doesn't prevent crime. We are no better off since Julia Snyder and Jack Gray paid for their crime with the death penalty. Now my sister, I have been deeply interested in the MacDonald case—always when a woman is involved. Life imprisonment for these two would be hard enough. Spending one's natural life at hard labor behind prison walls, with no pardon possible, would be more effective."

"I think men suffer for death. That is the first chapter for them. But their friends and relatives are routinely poring eloquently for the crime. I am utterly opposed to capital punishment. Let us examine the case closely the reason for crime before condemning the criminal."

Mrs. Katherine P. Clarke, Secretary at, Boston, prominent woman Democrat. "I have read with much feeling the MacDonald case. It is wrong, in fact two lives for one. I am utterly opposed to capital punishment."

Mrs. Cynthia Delano, charity worker, Mt. Vernon. "I have read the MacDonald case, and in this case particularly would I say life imprisonment. That is hard enough."

10,000 CHEERAS LINDY GETS KEY TO HAVANA

Havana, Feb. 10 (INS)—Ten thousand persons massed in Central Park today cheered as they saw the presentation of "the key of the city" to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Earlier in the day the model of the Peruvian colono, granted for courage and brilliant achievement, was presented to Col. Lindbergh by Governor Rius at the State Department.

President Machado was chief speaker at the Central Park public reception when Col. Lindbergh was handed not only as the world's greatest aviator but as a man of fine spirit and high character.

Col. Lindbergh's remarks were broadcast. He expressed his appreciation for the friendly welcome and the high honors, and said he was sure he would have to leave soon. Squads of school children and cadets were massed before the speaker's stand.

Col. Lindbergh returned to the United States embassy at 11:20 p.m. before the reception in the National Theatre tonight, when he will receive from President Machado Cuba's highest decoration—the Carlos Manuel de Céspedes Order.

FEAR PRISONERS SLEW GUARDS BOY AND GIRL FOIL KIDNAPER

Chicago, Feb. 10 (AP)—Search for two Lafayette (Ind.) deputy sheriffs and their two prisoners, who have been missing since Tuesday, resumed here today with the finding of a pair of mutilated handcuffs. The handcuffs, which had been filed open, led authorities to believe the prisoners had eluded their guards, perhaps killing them.

The missing deputies are John P. Grove and Wallace McClure. They left Lafayette early Tuesday in an automobile with two prisoners, Ben Baxter and John Hurry, both of whom had been sentenced to from 5 to 25 years for robbery to the state reformatory at Pontiac, Ind. Authorities fear the two prisoners caught the guards unaware, overpowered them, perhaps killed them and hid their bodies.

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 10 (AP)—Samuel Baxter and John Hurry, missing convicts, were at the home of Eugene's uncle at Ellettsville, Ill., near Danville, Tuesday morning several hours after they left home in the custody of the deputy sheriffs. Laxative police reported today. Otto W. Smith, Hurry's uncle told the police the two driving an automobile belonging to the deputies, stayed at the Smith home for a short time until asked to leave.

Newburyport, Feb. 10—Two children, a boy and a girl, foiled a possible attempt to kidnap them today when they ran home frightened instead of accepting a ride offered by a strange man in an automobile. A short time later police started the man still cruising the streets, as if in search of other children. He abandoned the car and ran through backyards, making his escape.

Although the automobile he used may have been stolen, police are checking up on the owner. It was registered in the name of a Methuen man who, it was learned in that town, only recently moved to Haverhill.

The children are Loretta Murphy, nine-year-old daughter of Patrick Murphy of Oakland st. and John O'Brien, seven, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. James O'Brien of 4 Jackson st.

When the stranger stopped his car at the curb and invited them to ride, they left their play and ran as fast as they could to the O'Brien boy's home, which was nearby. Mrs. O'Brien telephoned the police immediately.

CIVIL WAR ENDS IN NICARAGUA, SAYS DIAZ

By JAMES T. WILLIAMS, JR.
Managua, Nicaragua, Feb. 10.—Why the American marines returned to Nicaragua in 1927; why they are still here, what they are doing here and are preparing to do and what would happen here if they should be withdrawn before their job is finished, are questions which President Diaz cheerfully answered in the course of a long conversation at Campo del Marte, the White House of Nicaragua.

Speaking slowly and deliberately, with a quiet earnestness, President Diaz said:

"Soon after I became president in 1925 I found that the attitude of open and unprovoked hostility assumed by the Government of Nicaragua toward the Government of Nicaragua, compelled me to appeal to the Government of the United States for assistance in protecting the rights of Americans and other foreigners in Nicaragua with whom this country has treaties."

SAYS U. S. ENDED STRIFE.

"In my appeal I explained to the United States the situation in detail. After the United States had received repeated evidence that Mexico was sending arms and soldiers to the revolutionists here, and after many of these had been delivered to the revolutionists here, the United States bottled my government that it would be permitted to import arms with which to defend itself against the revolutionists and their Mexican allies, and this we did."

"With the assistance of the United States, the civil war in my country has been ended. At the request of my government and the leaders of the revolution, both the conservative and the liberal parties, the United States has undertaken to supervise the coming election in this country for the sole purpose of giving the people of Nicaragua a free and honest election."

ANARCHY WOULD RESULT.

"The American marines and the newly organized national police—the Nicaraguan National Guard, as it is called—are working together to round up the outlaws. It is only a question of time, and I hope a short time, when the job will be done, and well done."

"If the American marines should be withdrawn from Nicaragua before Scudino and his outlaws are run down and run out of the country or before a free and fair election has been held, or before the splendid service of General Heald and his staff are rendered in training the Nicaraguan National Guard is completed, you ask what would happen here."

"There is only one answer to that question: Anarchy would engulf Nicaragua and continue to breed the peace of Central America until the United States should come again to our assistance, or some other and perhaps less patient power take over the job."

FRENCH FLIERS PAY 2D VISIT TO COOLIDGE

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP).—Refreshed after a long night's rest from the sightseeing and social whirl of yesterday, Lieutenants Costa and Labrie, French aviators, had an opportunity today for a second visit with President Coolidge. Lunch was arranged for them at the White House and later they planned to visit the naval air station at Annapolis at the special invitation of the station commander, and to inspect their planes, the Nungesser-Corb at Bolling Field, a few hundred yards away. Tonight the aviators will be guests at a dinner by Mrs. Georges Thibault of the French embassy.

Sandino Defies U. S. Marines to Meet Him in Battle

Managua, Nic., Feb. 10 (AP).—General Augusto Sandino, rebel leader, has defied the American marines to join battle with him.

Writing to the chief Nicaraguan authority in the Matagalpa district, Sandino said he would be delighted to meet the marines in the hills around Matagalpa when blood would flow.

He protested against the "cowardly actions of the marines" in Nueva Segovia. This criticism was thought to be in objection to the marines' extensive bombing operations from airplanes.

Advices received here estimate Sandino's force at from 100 to 400 men.

SIX MEN PERISH IN CALIFORNIA EXPLOSION

Long Beach, Cal., Feb. 10 (INS).—Six men were reported killed and seven are believed to have been injured when a terrific explosion of an absorption plant rocked this city today.

An entire city block was reported to have been destroyed and three oil wells burned in a conflagration which followed the huge blast. An exact checkup of the dead and injured was rendered impossible by the confusion surrounding the scene of the blast and fire early today.

PIPE A SOLACE TO N. H. WOMAN WHO IS 94

Hillsboro, N. H., Feb. 10.—One brand of tobacco used for 80 years with no smoking before breakfast, is the recipe for longevity of Mrs. Eliza Jane Gould, who will celebrate her 94th birthday a week from tomorrow.

Mrs. Gould attributes her good health and long life partly to the fact that she has smoked a T. D. clay pipe since she was 12 years old, but lays particular emphasis on the regularity of her habits.

Under no circumstances did she ever smoke before breakfast, but lights her pipe immediately after that meal and as often during the day thereafter as she wishes. And she has clung steadfastly to one brand of tobacco, and an expensive one, and is still using it. When a pipe becomes too strong for Mrs. Gould she throws it away and buys another.

She lives with one of her daughters, Mrs. Dow E. Abbott of Beirut st., where her birthday will be celebrated on February 18, probably with a new pipe. Mrs. Gould is bedridden.

Asked if her husband, now dead, ever objected to her smoking, Mrs. Gould replied cheerily: "Oh, no, he did at first, but he got used to it and died of a heart attack. He found out it didn't do him any good to object."

May good God Mrs. Gould drive only a few hundred miles are offered every day to Boston America Classified Ads. See Classification 126.

PIPE IS HER JOY

Mrs. Eliza Jane Gould, who will celebrate her 94th birthday anniversary on February 18 at Hillsboro, N. H., lays her longevity to the use of one brand of tobacco in her pipe for 80 years.

COAST GUARDS RESCUE 7 HUB FISHERMEN

Provincetown, Feb. 10 (INS).—Another thrilling rescue by the brave coast guardmen of Cape Cod was recorded today.

Riding their lives in a blinding snowstorm the guardmen of the Peaked Hill Barge station plunged into the raging surf and brought to safety seven Boston fishermen from the wrecked steam trawler Mos III.

The trawler, with a valuable cargo of fish, was rounding the Cape during a blow when she grounded on the treacherous Peaked Hill Barge, graveyard of many staunch craft.

As the Mos III, with her masts open, began breaking up, the crew of seven men put off in a dory. The blinding snow, together with fog, made visibility a matter of only a few yards.

The dory was being tossed about and in danger of sinking when coast guardmen on the beach, with life lines and about their waists, ran into the raging surf and dragged the men of the Mos III to safety. Three of the crew of the trawler collapsed on the beach, but were revived at the coast guard station.

The crew, housed at the Peaked Hill station, are: Captain Bradford Amundson, Somerville; J. M. Jensen, 40 Little St., Rockland; Mr. Anthony Pakke, East Boston; Charles Almro, 14 Conway ter., Lynn; Ralph Rockhouse, Provincetown; George Maise, 73 Cottage st., Lynn; John Carey of Roxbury.

NEW TREATY PROPOSALS SENT BY U. S. TO JAPAN

Tokio, Feb. 10 (AP)—Without any accompanying comment the United States has sent proposals before the Japanese government to serve as the basis of a new arbitration treaty to replace the Root arbitration treaty which will expire on August 24.

Among the proposals the government is now studying the basic proposals

By SALVATORE CORTESE, Associated Press Correspondent in Rome.

Rome, Feb. 10 (AP)—The year 1923 perhaps may become as noteworthy in the religious history of the world for the solution of the "Roman question" as is the year 1870 for the fall of the Vatican's temporal power.

At the beginning of 1927 Premier Mussolini, speaking on the "Roman question" said:

"I must be concluded and settled by the papacy."

Circumstances have prevented this, notwithstanding willingness on both sides and the efforts and ability of the chief negotiators who remain the dark and is almost unknown, the Rev. Tacchini-Venturi.

The Rev. Tacchini-Venturi, former Premier Mussolini before the latter assumed that office, but their acquaintance grew very close when Mussolini chose him to negotiate the purchase of the ancient library contained in the Chigi Palace, which was about to be bought by the Italian Government.

GIVES LIBRARY TO POPE.

The Rev. Tacchini-Venturi went to see the Pope's proposal and concluded:

"I am instructed to ask your excellency for what sum you would be willing to sell the Chigi Library to the Holy See."

The answer responded promptly: "I will sell to the Pope. To the Holy Father I present the library."

The conversations for the reconciliation between church and state began and they could scarcely have started under more favorable auspices.

Adding to reliable reports, the main points agreed upon for the solution of the "Roman question."

EXTENSION OF TERRITORY.

1.—The Italian State grants to the Holy See an extension of its territory which will enjoy the right of extrajurisdiction. It is to be enjoyed by the Apostolic palaces and the Vatican Gardens since 1870. The new territory to be added is on the southeast of the Vatican Gardens and includes the beautiful Villa Litta-Pamphili, one of the largest near Rome, surrounded by a magnificent park more than four miles in circuit.

2.—Italy further grants to the Pope an indemnity for the loss sustained by the Holy See through the fall of temporal power, in addition to the payment of the allowance established by the law of 1870 for the upkeep of the government of the church. The Pontiff has refused this allowance of $2,000,000 sold in 1904, and the total amount now would, with compound interest for 18 years, would exceed $40,000,000.

To this sum is what the Vatican claims for compensation and occupation of this property, and a means will have to be found to give it within the range of possibility, such as agreeing to give a long period, instead of paying "cash down."

TRANSFER TO NEW SITE.

3.—The conclusion of concordat between Italy and the Holy See, anticipating as much, as is humanly possible all conceivable divergences in order to find a way to prevent them, or at least to solve them should they arise, would be notified to all the countries which have diplomatic relations with the Vatican and with the Italian Government.

It is understood that, once the "Roman question" is solved, the various departments of the Holy See will be gradually transferred to the new territory granted to the Pope. This would render vacant some of the most important palaces in Rome which would be turned over to the Italian Government for a sum to be mutually agreed upon.

It is understood that the Pope, foregoing further, desires to examine personally the precise impression which the pourpours have produced in the various countries. Above all, he was anxious to hear what the clergy and faithful of the United States think, since America is the first Catholic power in the world with regard to the funds she supplies to the Holy See.

6 MORE SUBMARINES FOR BRITAIN'S FLEET

London, Feb. 10 (AP)—The admiralty has placed orders for the construction of six more submarines, it was learned today. They will be armed with four-inch guns and torpedoes. The submarines will have a submerged displacement of 15,000 tons and will be among the most powerful of the British fleet.

'Know Thyself' Reading Dr. Dorsey's Great Work

Where would the world be if we stopped quarreling amongst ourselves, and what heights could humanity attain if braves were used unselfishly to solve common problems?

Why cannot the raw material of human nature be worked and refined to possibilities of more intelligent behavior?

In "Why We Behave Like Human Beings," the master work of Dr. George A. Dorsey, philosopher and anthropologist, he treats of these questions and many others.

This highly-graded book begins in serial form in next Monday's Boston Evening American.

All his life Dr. Dorsey has been a student of mankind, and he has traveled into practically every corner of the world in gathering his material.

If you are curious about yourself and about your fellow human, as you should be, you cannot afford to miss reading Dr. Dorsey's work.

The People Constitute the Great "COURT OF EQUITY"

They Are the Judge and Jury of All Our Business and Social Acts—If We Are Square and Honest They Stand by Us —If Not They Turn Us Down

I HAVE SERVED the public for over 25 years. I have sold thousands and thousands of pianos in Boston, Greater Boston and all over New England, and I have earned the confidence and respect of this great court, "The People," in all these years. The People have stood by me and endorsed me. They made me what I am today in the piano business. What am I? I am the largest individual piano dealer in Boston and I am selling more pianos now than ever—and only because of my liberal policy and low prices plus the service I give the people.

Look back 25 years—where are all the piano dealers that were in existence then? One by one they dropped out of the picture, why, I don't know. I, J. P. Collins, am doing the piano business of this good old town. Do you think that I would be leading the field if I did not keep up with the people and serve them well?

In common with all successful business men I have had a few experiences with that fellow called the "Chronic Kicker," the fellow that no one can seem to satisfy; the fellow that wants it all and won't pay his bill; the fellow that goes about looking for trouble of his own making—even in cases of this kind I always make it a point to do all I can to satisfy and although I always do at a loss, I just grin and bear it—everybody gets a square deal from your truly, J. P. Collins.

WED 4 MONTHS. KILLS HIMSELF

Ray Anderson, Brookline High track star and all-around athlete in 1926, tried to gain admission to the college last fall, but his record did not satisfy the registrar and he was refused. So young Anderson went down to Williams and Mary College in Virginia to prepare for the H. I. entrance exams. At the Virginia college he made the freshman football team, the varsity track team, and a high place on the dean's honor list. He received not less than an 80 per cent grade in all his courses.

'Try, Try Again' Grit Gets Brookline Boy in B. U.

During the Christmas recess Anderson came to Boston and tried again to enter B. U., but was told he must take the entrance exams in February. So he returned in

Williams and Mary in order to receive credit for his courses there. On January 21 the B. U. registrar sent the entrance exams down to Virginia where Anderson took them under the supervision of the dean and passed them all with honors.

The next day the Brookline youth packed his bag, came to Boston and is now a full-fledged freshman at B. U.

BRILLIANTLY Different

Dodge Brothers Victory Six is not only a new car but an entirely new and better kind of a car. For the first time in history, body and chassis are a single, integral unit.

The wide, deep Victory chassis frame, flush with the body lines, eliminates the body sill and the customary body OVERHANG.

Major body parts are reduced from 367 to 8! 175 pounds of useless weight are cast off!

The gravity center is radically lowered—with head-room and road clearance unaffected.

And battleship construction (i. e., double steel walls) is applied for the first time to the construction of a motor car body.

The results can not be expressed—they must be experienced.

No unpleasant skidding or sideways at the corners. No back-wheel "chatter" when the Lockheed Hydraulic brakes are quickly applied.

A smoothness over cobble roads that you have never imagined possible.

As swift a car that is safe—a moderate-priced car that is unsurpassed in smartness and individuality.

Easily Trained to Perfect Regularity!

It's no easy to have regularity, thorough, and natural elimination of all waste—daily! A little calcium—no!—Nature does the rest. Don't take harsh laxative cathartics. Not sickening salts. A tiny calcium wafer now and then answers all need of them. Calcium cleanses the blood, too, and clears the complexion like no loam could ever do. Pure calcium keeps you in the pink condition.

Try it!

A five-day test will prove to you very conclusively the system's need for calcium, and the decided benefit from these little wafers. Your druggist has them—the test size for pocket is 10c. Or the family size, 60c.

THE MEDITATIONS OF A WIFE

By HELEN ROWLAND

Now that kisses are getting longer and longer, love affairs are becoming shorter and shorter.

Now that the kissing is more and more intensive, the emotion that accompanies it is as pathetic as it would take a plum to keep it alive after the first novelty has worn off.

Indeed, there isn't any novelty! Kissing has become so standardized that, if you shut your eyes, you can't tell whether it's your year's left-over or this year's White Hope who is kissing you.

After the first of petting parties, a kiss must be just about as thrilling as eating a fried egg every morning for breakfast. Or, at a moment's notice, you can take a whole lot of love with only one time—and that gone that on the high note.

Considering all the kisses there are in the world today, you'd fancy that a girl could afford to be fastidious and take her kisses instead of rolling that she has no more than old brand that is offered her.

Yet all the and young men assure me that they are sick unto death of having to make love to every girl they choose will.

And all the sad young women assure me that they are loved, fed up, and bored to death at the prospect of being petted and pawed by every man they meet.

And nobody knows WHO started it all—"the lie on the egg!"

But one thing is certain, the women alone can STOP it. For a man is like an automobile. Once he gets started in any direction, he will keep right on going, until somebody puts on the brakes or throws a spoke in the wheels.

It was always hard enough to extract any really thrilling enjoyment from a man. And now that the "concocted" line and the canned kiss have been standardized, a girl has to have a desert of platitudes and mechanical kisses.

And for this deadly repetition, this dull, merry-go-round of imitation (kisses and certain disillusionment) women are exchanging all the wonder and the mystery and the glamour.

And for all the sad young women (Copyright, 1928, Helen Rowland, Inc.)

Chapter V.
BLACKMAIL, of course, never entered my mother's mind.

She had been brought up in the old-fashioned way, and I doubt whether she even knew that it was wrong to tease for money.

The fact that she often found postage stamps tucked into her high hatband was a constant source of puzzlement to her. She never dreamed that Congressman Frisby was thus contributing to her happiness.

Later Congressman Frisby denied that he had anything to do with this phase of the case, although he did admit sending my mother to stop interfering on his front porch. He said it made Mrs. Frisby nervous.

My mother tells an entirely different version.

She says that it was Mrs. Frisby who told her to get off the front porch. In fact, it was Mrs. Frisby who carried the garden hose on my mother, giving her the severe dressing which probably brought on the head cold mentioned in Chapter Two.

My mother was put to considerable expense for cough drops, chest flannels and such, and it was perhaps this, as much as anything else, that forced her to appear in Frisby for money to take a bathing suit at the Sunday school picnic.

The 'Woman' Vote

Here as Elsewhere, Opposed to Any Tampering With the Direct Primary

Between elections, the gentlemen who never have become reconciled to the abandonment of the convention system are always certain that they are soon to be rid of the Direct Primary.

And then, as has happened this week on Beacon Hill, they begin to hear from the rear benches, the outlying wards, from the men and women who are to be rid of the Direct Primary.

The bill before the Committee on Election Laws provided for a continuance of the Direct Primary system for all offices EXCEPT Secretary of State, State Treasurer, State Auditor and Attorney-General.

The belief that it is unreasonable to ask the great body of voters to pass upon the merits of aspirants to these offices is not restricted to members of the Joint Special Committee on Election Laws and the present method can be changed for one much better whenever the party leaders want to get together.

The ideal way would be in the direction of the Short Ballot. Trust the Governor to appoint these subordinate officials and hold HIM responsible for their conduct in office.

That the Massachusetts attack upon the Direct Primary is recognized here as an attack upon the rights of the woman voter was shown by the appearance in opposition of three women members of the Legislature.

Representative Martha N. Brooks, of Gloucester, a dissenting member of the Special Committee, called the primary the most effective method yet devised of giving the people the opportunity to select the men and women who run their government.

Representative Sylvia M. Donaldson, of Brockton, thought it was at least suspicious that the chairman of the Republican State Committee and the chairman of the Democratic State Committee are "souls with but a single thought, two hearts that beat as one" in their dislike for the primary. Men have had the same suspicion.

Representative Florence S. Slocum, of Worcester, confessed to a feeling that the proposed law would take away some of the rights of the voters. "Some" is the correct word. A spokesman for the organization called the bill "a STEP in the right direction." Give them this and they'll come back for more.

It seems unlikely that they will get it, anyhow not this year. Vice-President Charles L. Reed, of the State branch, A. F. of L., recorded organized labor's opposition, but the really significant thing was the hostility of the women. Mrs. Truworthy White made known the opposition of the League of Women Voters.

The able spellbinder can squirm his way out of a packing-case after he has been handcuffed and locked in, but even he would find it difficult to hold the "woman vote" next Fall if his party were to be tagged "anti-primary."

It is against historic precedent for the people to surrender a right, once it has been secured, and it is equally against precedent for the bosses—real or imaginary—to take any chances on the eve of an important election.

—'Teacher Says'

Heads Up!

Whoever drew the "safety first" order which is before the Boston School Committee is entitled to the thanks of the fathers and mothers of the community. The order ought to pass. It reads as follows:

ORDERED—That every teacher in the high, intermediate and elementary schools be directed to devote one minute before dismissing a class for the noon recess or for the afternoon to emphasize the necessity of care on the part of the pupils in passing along the highway.

The State Registrar of Motor Vehicles supplements this order with the suggestion that parents co-operate with teachers by last minute cautions before the young people leave home for school.

Children ARE heedless and thoughtless. Some of them are so "scatter-brained" that, if you were to believe what their mothers tell THEM, they would continue to walk through the streets as if in reverie, their heads in the clouds, if they were warned of the danger at fifteen-minute intervals throughout the day.

But these are only the giddiest ones; the great majority could not fail to be impressed by a combination of the teacher-Goodwin last-minute admonitions.

Uniforms to Be Honored

One Fireman's Death and SOME VERY LOW PAY

Honor all uniforms that represent public service, hard work, willingness to face danger, the soldier braving dangers of the ocean, ready to fight if war comes, are honored by all of us.

Don't forget other uniforms that stand for honor, service and courage, the uniform of the policeman, the letter carrier, the working uniform of the street sweeper, the blue uniform of the fireman and other service uniforms, on railroads and elsewhere.

A fire started in a coal pocket in New York. Fireman John Dwyer, in the regular routine of duty, climbed to a spot 80 feet above the ground. He was working intensely, slipped on icy metal and fell to his death. Instantly another man took his place of danger. There was a line about it in the newspapers, in the regular "routine of the news," nothing more.

Another man will wear the blue uniform in John Dwyer's

This Mayoralty Business

THE MYSTO OF THE MODERN UP-TO-DATE MAYOR IS, "PUBLICITY FIRST."

MAYOR SAMUEL SKILLIE OF WOBURN, MASSACHUSETTS, WHO HAS CHALLENGED THE MAYOR OF BACKWASH, ARIZONA, TO A DEBATE ON "WHICH IS THE NORTH SIDE OF THE MOON."

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Thoughtful while strolling. A ghastly group around a hotel canopy, waiting for a taxi. And it's only 10 a.m. The usual traffic cop at 46th and Madison Avenue. Georgia, the Algonquin hotel. Newsboys in curled catnaps between editions. Joe King, the handsome actor.

A splitting of snow. But soon robins will be tugging at worms in the park. Those old men who grease car rails. A piano hoisting and the crowd. Whatever become of Newfoundland deer? How popular brief cases have become. Wonder if Michael Strange has seen "The Royal Family?" Street pianos grinding out forgotten hits. Such as "Poor Butterfly." (Grandma! How window shopping. Children in flaming colors. A Chinese driving a taxi. The thick assemblage around Grand Central. A woman with swollen eyes, following a handcuffed prisoner. The also assembles with bright mustaches. Montreal is the new week-end high spot. The Belmont—an old hotel but a majestic manner, rarely see an opulience who doesn't wear glasses. The old fellow who sits at a table, wearing a skull cap and smoking a long cherry-wood pipe.

The austerity of the library lions. A lone child screams—and a corner congests. No city answers so quickly to a cry of distress. "Nonpareil" garment workers—like the run of a loom. Old men with beards. Young men with marvels. And girls with saucy indifference.

The shop selling dead butterfly ornaments. Push cart edibles—hot potatoes, a stick, parboiled and salted watermelon seeds, giant pretzels and loquor water. The public, interesting Eva Le Gallienne. A polliwog and a pupa asleep in a big store window. Japanese importing stores with a colorful window. The Little Church Around the Corner and the usual patches of wedding on the sidewalks. The Martha Washington Hotel, for women only. The silk district. And the stroll ends.

MOB psychology plays a big part in New York's real estate development. Two fashionable centers have sprung up in out-of-the-way neighborhoods. One is the old trick of the sheep turning after the bell-wether. This is to say, two or three ragging celebrities took up their residence in the new district, and the crowd that could afford it followed. In these celebrities have almost been given their homes so as to have some of the best of it.

HUTELL, too, offering for an appeal to high-class patronage, have often provided free accommodations for those motorists who would accept the hand-out. This is to be expected in a prominence might be attracted.

WITH the marriage of Big Bill Edwards, New York lost a popular bachelor. This genial 39-year-old has moved in all circles of society. He has been the guest of honor at a street cleaners' ball and led the parade of a modestly paid man at a Palm Beach. He has a low child scream—and a corner congests. No city answers so quickly to a cry of distress. "Nonpareil" garment workers—like the run of a loom. Old men with beards. Young men with marvels. And girls with saucy indifference.

place and hold himself in readiness through 24 hours to risk his life to protect the lives of others—women and children sleeping, citizens that will hardly bear his name if he loses his life, and NEVER hear of it if he escapes. This is true in Boston and other cities, large and small.

Every little while comes the crack of a revolver in the hands of some criminal, youthful cocaine or heroin fiend. A policeman is killed. The papers print a line.

Another man puts on the uniform, and takes the place of the one whose uniform laid away has a bullet hole in it. And the work of the police goes on.

Letter carriers, night and day, through bitter cold and rain, work their thirty, forty or even more years. They carry the letters and greetings for the country, faithful servants.

Street sweepers are as important to health and life as firemen and policemen, since they protect health. All these public servants should be remembered with gratitude and honor for the uniforms that they wear.

AND ALL OF THEM, UNFORTUNATELY, ARE UNDEPAID.

The richest nation in the world should take pride in being at least JUST in paying faithful servants, even if they can't be actually GENEROUS.
